Hockey.

TEAMS of seven men a side for hockey have been shown to be much preferable to those of ten men, with which number the Thirteenth Battalion championship matches have been played. Last night the competing teams of D and F companies were handicapped by having only about two-thirds of the hall to play in, owing to the fact that the decorations for the Commercial Travellers' ball are being put up. It was on account of the lack of space that the teams were cut down, but the players were so thoroughly pleased with the change that they don't want to see any more teams of ten. Though cramped for space the match of last night was scientific and interesting, D Company winning by 3 goals to 1. The teams were:

D COMPANY.

Pte. R. Campbell..

Hockey.

There was a fine game of hockey on the ice yesterday between "D" company and the bugle band teams of the Thirteenth Battalion. The ice was keen and the contest close, the buglers winning by 1 goal to 0. The goal was made early in the first half. As this was the first skating of the season for almost all the contestants, and as the play was particularly fast, there are a good many sore volunteers in town to-day. The teams were :
